The Homer Fitts Company

MONTPELIER

Old Case in Probate Court Has Been Settled.

John Shanley settled his account as administrator of the estate of James Nathan in probate court this forenoon. The administrator has had charge for 25 years of a fund created by James Nathan for Patrick Nathan, who has not been heard of during the quarter century and presumably is deceased. The will of Adie C. Thom was proven. J. Fred Robbins as administrator of the estate of Clayton P. Tupper, late of East Montpelier.

Arthur Seguin left last evening for Chicopee Falls, Mass., where he has secured employment with the Westinghouse Electric company.

Mrs. Mary Whitcomb went to-day to Albany, N. Y., for an indefinite visit with relatives.

The police were summoned early last evening to the Tomasi block, corner of Main and Barre streets, where Viola Bennett and husband were engaged in a heated argument. They were taken to the police station and Grand Juror Theriault investigated into the case, finally reaching the conclusion that Montpelier would be able to do without the Bennetts. As the result of the conclusion, they made arrangements to leave to-day for parts unknown.

Miss Bertha Duval, who has been visiting friends in Barre, and her sister, Mrs. David Spicer, in Montpelier, for the past 10 days, returned this forenoon to Burlington, where she is employed.

G. Vilser left to-day for Brunswick, N. J., for an indefinite stay with relatives.

Mrs. Harold Pierce of Barre street expects to leave to-morrow for Cobalt, Canada, for a several weeks' visit with relatives.

Miss Florence Sweeney, who has been visiting relatives in Winoski for several months while attending business college in Burlington, arrived in the city to-day for a visit with her mother.

before returning to his home, South Orange, N. J.

For the alleged non-delivery of stock, the Charles G. Bianchi Granite Co. of Montpelier has brought suit in county court for $1,000 against the Montpelier & Wells River railroad. R. A. Hoar appears for the plaintiff and H. C. Shurtleff for the defendant. The plaintiff claims that the railroad company failed to carry some granite monuments to St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Brown have gone to Boston for a several days' visit. Maynard Wright has returned to Flagstaff, Me., where he is engaged in educational work, after having spent several weeks in the city with relatives.

Building a Whale.

Making a plaster cast of a dead whale 87 feet long, as the huge body lay half in the water on the coast of Newfoundland, is the feat which H. E. Palmer regards as the most remarkable in his career as a government taxidermist. He had to complete the job in 10 hours because the dead whale was rapidly decomposing.

When he had finished this titanic task he loaded the model on two freight cars, together with the head and all the other bones of the whale.

This trophy is the star exhibit of a recently completed section of the National museum which is devoted entirely to whales and other sea creatures of the same family. It also gives the United States museum the distinction of possessing the largest specimen of a whale, and the largest skeleton in any collection. The British museum has the skeleton of an 80-foot whale, but no plaster cast was ever made of it.

Despite the fact that the whale has been known and hunted for centuries, one of a species hitherto unknown to science was recently captured off the coast of North Carolina. It is included in the government collection and bears the cumbersome name of Mesoplodon himmum.—Woman's World for August.
